How much money you have to lose as a short seller? If zero, you're making it bad for your fellow maxis shorting CEL. I will positively deal with them in the harshest way possible for interfering in our community affairs.

If we succeed to drain all CEL off exchanges & put them into self-custody wallets & charge $100 per CEL, short sellers won't have a choice but to buy them for $100. Yes, long shot, but the math is there to say it can happen if we cooperate to drain FTX & other exchanges of CEL.

11/11 That's why you have to ignore the price because it's engineered by short sellers to scare you to sell your CEL for their benefit. Hold the line.
- Let's continue as a Celsius community draining FTX of all CEL tokens and put them in self-custody wallets.

10/11 sellers borrowed 1 million CEL tokens and dumped them on the market and that is what crashed the CEL price. It's not your fellow Celsiusians selling, it is the short sellers borrowing CEL and dumping it on the market, and they have to buy back those same CEL tokens.

9/11 BTW you're not a Celsiusian if you have no CEL token, not possible.
- In closing, to my fellow Celsiusians, let's keep up the pressure on FTX, draining all CEL tokens off FTX and put them into self-custody wallets, ignoring the $0.70 CEL price, since we know that spot short

8/11 act against your own self-interest. Your interest is for Celsius to resume withdrawals and one way you can do that as a #Bitcoin 📈 or ETH maxi is by participating in the #CelShortSqueeze campaign, because Celsius has over 320 million CEL tokens on its balance sheet.

7/11 their fellow maxis you shouldn't have given your #Bitcoin 📈 to @Mashinsky for some interest. And those same #Bitcoin 📈 maxis won't buy one CEL to help their cause to prop up Celsius' balance sheet. How can you be so devoted to #Bitcoin 📈 maximalism to the point where you

6/11 Our network is Celsius Network, and to be a part of this Network you need to hold CEL token so that you can enjoy all the benefits of Celsius Network. We are down right now as a community and no #Bitcoin maxi gives a f*ck. They're all out there tweeting against us, telling

5/11 the same exact thing goes for ETH maxis: They don't give a flying f*ck. It all falls on us, the community. And I don't consider you a part of this community if you don't own CEL, because this is Celsius Network, not Bitcoin Maxi Network (BMN) or Ethereum Maxi Network (EMN).

4/11 certain death with our #CelShortSqueeze community-led campaign. You better believe that without this #CelShortSqueeze campaign, short sellers would have driven the price of CEL down to $0.01 where they have a buy order for 36.9 million CEL on FTX, or CEL would be dead. And

2/11 just here to make a buck. Buying CEL off FTX and participating in the #CelShortSqueeze inures to their benefit, as it puts the company in a better position with respect to its balance sheet. But they won't even do that. Buying CEL and participating in the #CelShortSqueeze

1/11 I find it strange that since Celsius paused withdrawals, no #Bitcoin maxi that have #Bitcoin on the platform have come forward and said I'm going to participate in the #CelShortSqueeze. Ask yourself why? Because they don't give a flying f*ck about @CelsiusNetwork, they're
